The penalty for any other contravention of this Order is a fine not exceeding £200 on summary conviction and, in the case of a continuing offence when the contravention is continued after conviction, a person is liable on summary conviction to an additional fine not exceeding £5 for every day on which the contravention is so continued.

If a tree other than one to which an Order applies as part of a woodland is removed, uprooted or destroyed in contravention of an Order, or is removed, uprooted or destroyed or dies at a time when its cutting down or uprooting is authorised only by Section 60(6) of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 relating to trees which are dying or dead or have become dangerous, it is the duty of the owner of the land, unless on his application, the local planning authority dispense with the requirement, to plant another tree of appropriate size and species at the same place as soon as he reasonably can. Dear Councillor

Proposed Tree Preservation Order -
27 Burnthouse Road, Whitley Bay

The Council at their Meeting held on 5th March, 1981 confirmed the Minutes of the Meeting of the Development Services Committee held on 27th February, 1981, recommending the making of a Tree Preservation Order on a tree at 27 Burnthouse Road, Whitley Bay (Minute 985(23)/3/81 refers), and subsequently arrangements were made by me for the appropriate Notices to be served and the Order made on the 15th April, 1981, on those affected by the said Order.

A member of my staff, however, when serving the appropriate Notices, observed that the tree in question had had works undertaken to it, and after consultation with the Chief Architect it was discovered that in the interim period between the Meeting of the Committee and the appropriate Notices being served, the tree had been so severely pruned that it is now no longer considered worthy of being covered by a Tree Preservation Order. I consider, therefore, that no further action can be taken in implementing or confirming the Order. I have, however, in consultation with the Chief Planning Officer, made arrangements to avoid, as far as possible, such a situation happening in the future.

I would normally in such circumstances arrange for a report on this matter to be presented to the Development Services Committee at the next appropriate Meeting; however, I feel that the publicity which could be given to this matter would not be helpful in this case, and could lead to other persons taking similar action and prejudice the making of future Tree Preservation Orders.

Unless I hear from you to the contrary, therefore, I propose to take no further action in implementing this Tree Preservation Order, but not to report this situation to the Development Services Committee.

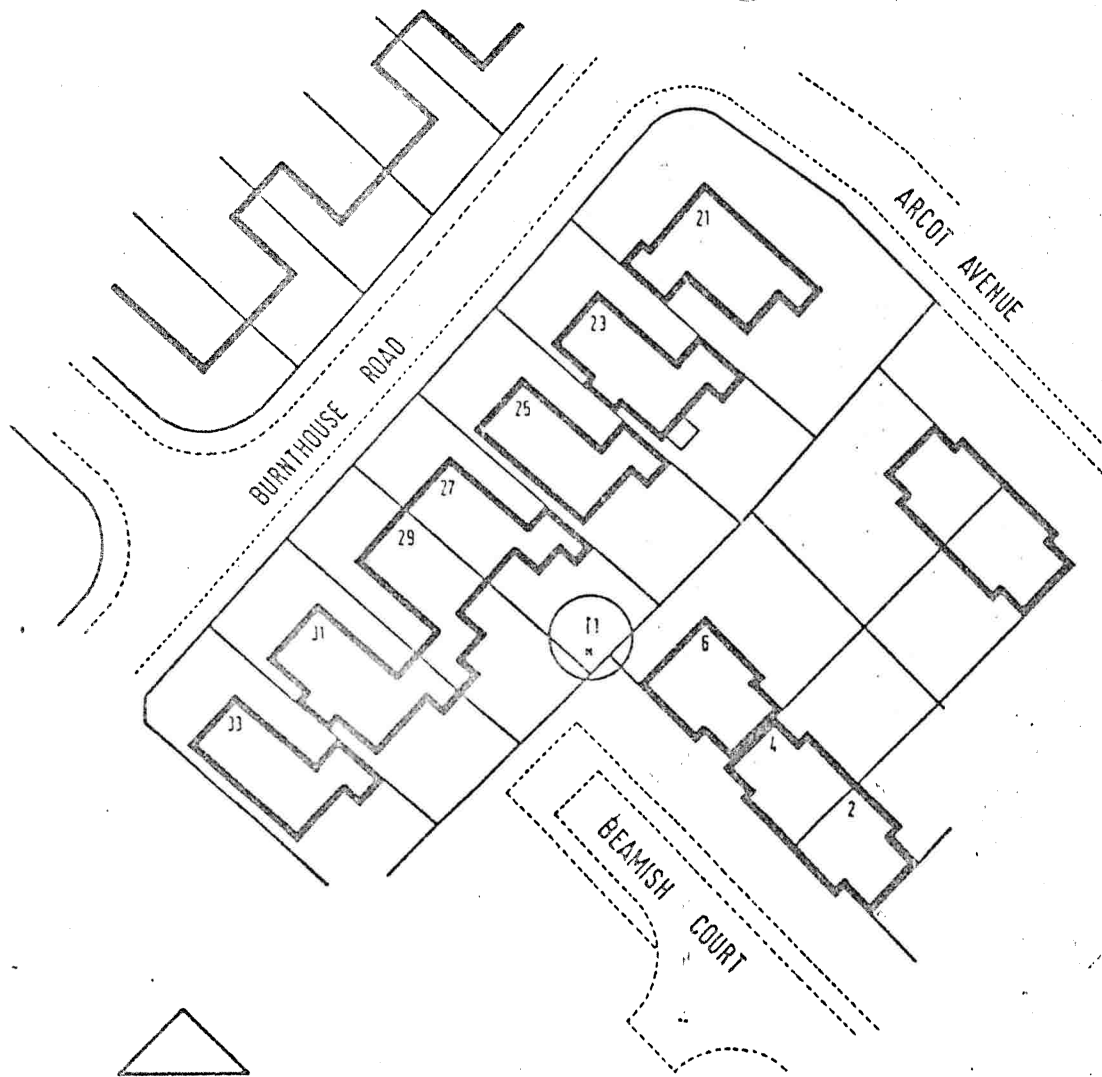

Yours sincerely,

F. S. Watson

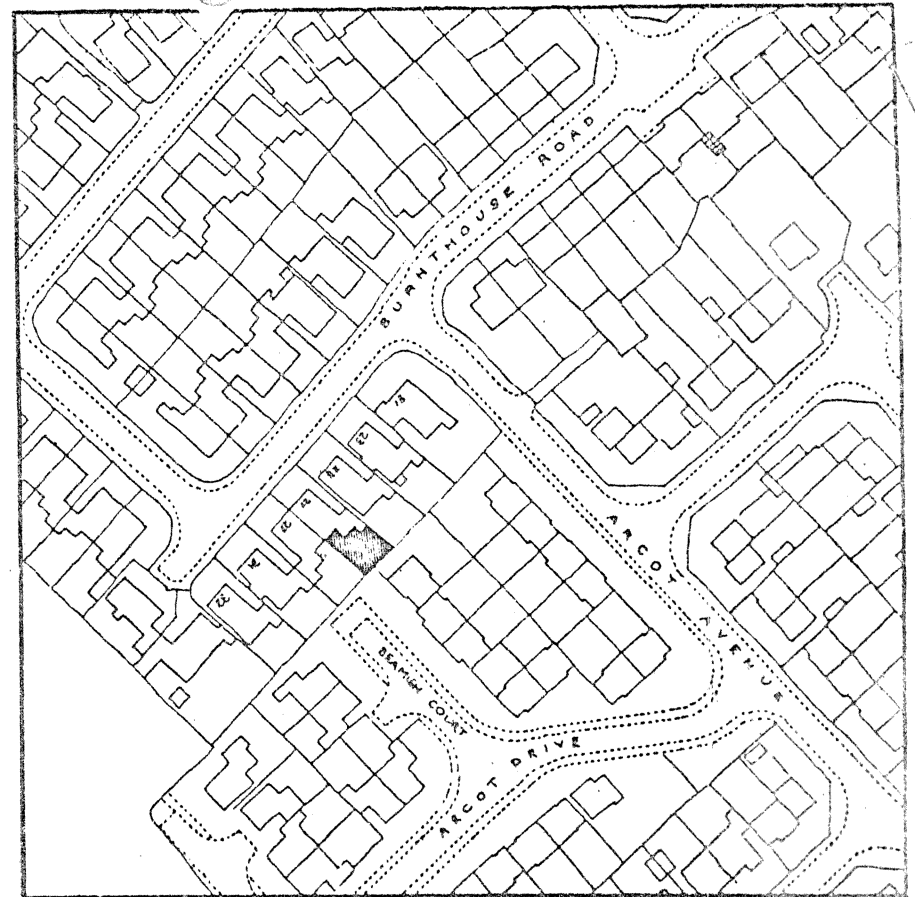

Secretary and Chief Legal Adviser
